Recognising the vital importance of R&D in the standardisation process, BIS is intensifying its efforts to address the challenges posed by rapid technological advancements and the transformative changes in business and social soheres. in business and social spheres.

In response to the increas-ing diversification, innovation, and complexities in the manuand complexities in the manufacturing sector and the evolution of services, BIS has emphasised the need to integrate R&D projects into the standardisation process. This integration requires leveraging an extensive network of domain experts capable of conducting thorough R&D work.

The focus areas of these projects include cutting-edge domains such as artificial intelligence, blockchain technology, medical devices, renewable energy. sustainability, smart cities, and digital transformation

To expand the existing net-work, BIS has entered into MoUs with premier educational institutions, including ITS and NITs, thereby tapping into the vast intellectual capital avail-able with their faculty and re-search scholars. Through these MoUs, BIS aims at promoting R&D neces-sary for standards formulation while simultaneously support-
